When you have your portrait taken you naturally want a GOOD one; to ensure this you must go to a place where not only the best appliances and artistic skill are to be found, but where also TIME can be taken to study your features, get their most pleasing expression, the most suitable light and graceful pose.
If the photographer lowers his prices too much he cannot take the necessary time to do his work well, but must run his customers through like sheep, trusting to the NUMBER to make his profit.
A sensible person will beware of such and prefer to go where fair prices are charged and every care taken to ensure the work turning out satisfactorily; such is the case at the "Gran Fotografia Platense" whose customers never having been driven away by excessively high prices, do not require to be lured back by catchpenny reductions.

SAENZ PEÑA.

By the almost unanimous vote of the electors this distinguished gentleman has been raised to the highest post in this republic, with Dr. Uriburu as Vice President. A quieter, more peaceable, or more orderly election never before was held in this country; and when we consider the chaos of the last two years and the elements of disorder which in every part of the republic were not only discernible but had, with the iron hand of authority, to be put down, we can estimate the genius and ability of the master hands that carved from the political ruins a new statue to Liberty and saved the nation from anarchy, bloodshed and civil war.

The general satisfaction which this election has caused was readable on the countenances of the people, and the great confidence which it has inspired was reflected in the rise in the values of national stocks, the fall in gold, and the generally improved tone of business in every branch and in every department.

This wonderful election has not only realized the hopes and wishes of what is termed the "Acuerdista" party, but it has crushed to atoms the dissolving particles of an opposition whose banner of discord and disunion has been torn down and trampled by the people. By a people who have suffered more than any other people in the world and who, notwithstanding all their sufferings, have never joined in any movement that would dethrone their institutions and their liberties.

The Argentine Republic has indeed passed through the severest of crucibles, but the neat, clean and almost unanimous election of such a man as Dr. Saenz-Peña to the Presidential chair is perhaps the most solemn proof that, spite of everything, the country is sound at the core. Dr. Saenz-Peña ascends to office with the only charge against him that he is a religious man and says his morning and night prayers! possibly the man of all others most needed at a moment when religion is so derided and strict principles so laughed at that even the bonds of society are threatened by the dissolving elements at work.

One remarkable feature about this election is the sincerity of those who proposed Dr. Saenz Peña as candidate, sincerity which owing to the calumnies of an opposition press was never trusted and never believed in; and the election with all its great advantages has no higher charm than the refutation of those calumnies and the bringing out in true, shining colours the patriotism and sincerity of the two most maligned and calumniated men in this Republic.

If to-day we have no Krupp guns at our garden gates, no regiments of the line encamped at the Plaza Once, no 'fosses' cutting our streets, no upturned tramway cars for barricades, at least we know to whom we are indebted.

The grandeur and magnificence of this election is only appreciable by those who remember byegones. But a year ago, the name of Saenz Peña was never even mentioned amongst us or spoken of in the political clubs. Last June we were all in the very depths of the crisis, our banks closing their doors, business paralyzed, credit annihilated and politicians preparing for a Sadowa or a Leuctra; But the unswerving honor, the matchless decision of character of the two leaders of men in this republic has saved the nation; and to-day we have the Presidential Election question solved without the firing of even a revolver.

All praise, all honor to such men; and let no one doubt the bright and happy prospects of this country so long as the seed of the Tucuman Fathers lives.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

At half-past one, on Sunday, the electors met in the hall of Congress and, having verified their diplomas, proceeded to elect the President and Vice-President of the Republic. The result was as follows:—

President:
Dr. Luis Saenz-Peña..... 20
General Julio A. Roca..... 1

Vice-President:
Dr. José Evaristo Uriburu. 21

Dr. Luis Saenz-Peña was then proclaimed President and Dr. José Evaristo Uriburu Vice-President. As soon as the result was known, a deputation of the National Party waited on Dr. Luis Saenz-Peña, who, in reply to an address delivered by General Mansilla, made the following speech:—

Fellow-citizens,—

The honor you have done me in electing me President of the Republic kindles in me the warmest gratitude for so high a distinction, which I never sought, to which I never aspired. The exceptional political circumstances in which the electoral movement of the country is placed, after a shock which endangered constitutional order, have tested the patriotism of the Argentine people. Let us thank Divine Providence that we have concluded the struggle without spilling blood. An elevated sentiment of patriotism silenced the voice of political passion, and public feeling has flowed over all the exigencies of party spirit. The contending parties thought it a patriotic duty to elect a citizen who had no political prejudices, and my candidature was chosen, as the best instrument for realizing the general aspiration cementing permanent order, guaranteeing all those rights which the Constitution accords, and initiating an era of constitutional reparation and honest anp upright Government.

What an honor, Gentlemen, to be called to the presidency for such noble ends! When I was asked if I would accept this honor, I stated I would do so, provided that my candidature were a popular one, and when I saw that the majority of the people were in favor of my candidature, I thought it my duty to accept this sacrifice, for sacrifice it is, the greatest in my life. I know well, gentlemen, the difficulties I shall have to contend with. I arrive at the presidency, not in the name of any political party, which would render all my efforts useless. I arrive at the presidency in the name of that general aspiration which desires a Government of reparation, a Government that will cement public confidence, that will ensure constitutional order, that will render dis order and anarchy impossible. It is in the name of these noble ends that I accept the Chief Magistracy. How, may I ask could I refuse to lend my honest assistance to such great national aspirations?

As collaborators, each in his particular sphere, I will summon all patriots of good will, and I will appeal, gentlemen to that great conservative element, which, for reasons I need not mention, has kept aloof from politics. I will also seek the cooperation of that important foreign element which, settled in the country, participates in our prosperity and our adversity, and which has always sympathised with the fate of this country, in which many have built up their fortunes. With these collective forces of opinion, I think I can legitimately hope to improve as much as possible the condition of the country.

It remains for me now to solemnly ratify all the opinions and aspirations I expressed when I accepted the honor of being named candidate to the Presidency.

And now, gentlemen, that the period of agitation and electoral struggle is at an end, let us raise our minds to the elevated duties which our country imposes on us. Let us all rally, all of us without distinction of political color, under the folds of our country's flag, which should protect and stimulate every one, which ought to urge every one to work in order to forget the hatred engendered by party divisions. Let each in his own sphere contribute to the work of concord and reparation, in order that we may soon have a return of prosperity throughout the entire republic.

These are the sentiments with which I accept the Chief Magistracy, and let me as a sincere believer, implore the assistance of Divine Providence in the accomplishment of the task before me.

Subsequently the electors in a body called on Dr. Luis Saenz-Peña to salute him. A deputation of the Catholic Association also waited on him. General Roca visited the President-elect and was embraced by him. General Mitre also visited the President elect, who received numerous other visits and congratulations all day yesterday.

THE BALANCE OF TRADE.

Mr. Editor,

Allow me, in the first place, to thank your correspondent "B. Vernon" for the exquisite courtesy of his allusion to my poor self—quite "á la Chesterfield."

As I am not an Englishman, I don't pretend to be thoroughly versed in the subtleties of the English tongue, but I should scarcely have supposed that my modest proposition in reference to W. P's example, "am I to understand," could be qualified as an "unscrupulous distortion" of that letter.

I am afraid your urbane correspondent has "cambiado los frenos" on the currency question.

Stability of the currency is not a condition of prosperity, but a result. Otherwise, we should arrive at this singular conclusion—that once the currency becomes disordered the country is irretrievably lost, for till the currency becomes stable the country cannot prosper, and I fail to see how you are going to render stable the currency of an unprosperous country.

As a proof of the surprising error into which your correspondent falls, I may cite the case of the United States, whose depreciated and fluctuating currency became stable through the commercial and industrial prosperity of the country, long years before the actual fact became a legal one. Of Austria and Russia, whose commercial and industrial vicissitudes are directly reflected in the improvement or decline of their respective currency, and finally of Italy whose stable currency, based on a loan, is unable to avoid the decline of the country's prosperity, or even maintain its own stability.

Consequently, we may safely maintain the converse proposition to his, and establish this general principle: That the prosperity of a country is quite independent of the stability of its currency, though such stability is a direct and necessary consequence of continued prosperity. Hence both circumstances are usually found together, and this fact is apt to mislead persons who, like your correspondent, do not sift the matter.

The explanation your correspondent gives as to why trade balances are not paid for in bullion is not over clear, and it strikes me that he also may have "got there" without exactly knowing how.

"The perfection to which the modern commercial system has been brought" which he gives as sufficient explanation sounds very nice, but is not altogether satisfying, except perhaps to such simple souls as that old woman who found comfort in that beautiful word "Mesopotamia."

Ancient commerce was no more conducted on the hard cash system than is the modern, probably far less so. Trade has always been barter, and when the ancient Phoenecian merchant sent his ships across the sea, coin, whether of gold or silver, was probably, we might say certainly, the least valuable part of the freight, whether outwards or homewards.

The Spanish galleons or plate vessels scarcely form an exception, for they were not properly trading vessels, belonging as they did to the crown, and sent for a specific purpose to bring back bullion.

All that the modern system can do is to act on a current that already exists, to artificially and temporarily check or promote imports or exports of bullion, but to do this the current must first exist.

The basis on which the system works is indebtedness, one way or the other. Either a country owes some other country, or else is owed by some other.

Now, logically, the country which owes should export bullion and the creditor receive, and here is where commercial combinations come in to cheek, accelerate or turn the current from its natural direction and flow.

If a country neither owes nor is owed abroad, the surplus of its exports must return in bullion, and I defy any one to prove the contrary, except some such extraordinary circumstance as paying a subsidy or tribute to a foreign country, or perhaps buying soldiers or slaves, for ships and arms are but commodities.

Of course, in such a rare case, of which perhaps China would be the nearest example, the tendency would be towards a perfect equilibrium between the two forms of trade, so that the values imported should cost the country exactly what it sold its exports for, because no trade could long continue between two countries of which one always should pay in coin, and the other never part with any of the precious metal.

Commerce, as you rightly remark Mr. Editor, must stand on two legs, but when we export more than we import we are simply paying the dividend on foreign capital we have before obtained, and thus our gain in the trade is nobody's loss.

The Old Mercantile Theory, long exploded, was that imports were a loss to a country and exports a gain. We know better now: we know that if we here import one million dollars worth of coal for instance, for our sugar and flour mills, that that value creates for the country a value of four or five millions; and that if France takes from us a million dollars worth of wool she manufactures it into cloth worth five or ten times so much.

But that theory has nothing to do with the modern balance of trade.

Thanking you for your great courtesy, and having now said my say, I remain your very humble servant,

E.

Mr. Editor,

I thank 'E' for his courteous reply to my enquiry as to what has become of the 36,000,000 dollars, which, while satisfactory so far as it goes, fails to establish the contention that, to bring the country to a sound economic condition, it is necessary to restrict imports. This is the theory held by President Pellegrini, of which 'E' has avowed himself a supporter, and is the original cause of this discussion. It may be that a hasty, slip-shod composition, when writing as 'Inquirer' conveyed the idea that I am contending for an excess of imports over exports as a necessity of national prosperity. I repudiate this doctrine also, and I never saw it taught in the STANDARD. What I contend for is that the two should be left free and unfettered to balance themselves.

It is indisputable that this country is in need of foreign capital to develop its resources and promote its prosperity. 'E's figures and arguments show that the national vehicle for introducing capital is through imported merchandize, but the President and 'E,' while desiring to welcome foreign capital, would cripple and destroy the channel by which it comes, which is neither patriotic nor consistent. It may be answered that capital would be created by our own produce exported and converted into bullion; but my contention is that such a one-sided trade would so affect foreign exchanges that our produce would fail to find favourable markets, and so the object which our Government have at heart would be defeated.

I am asked to account for the fall in gold of over 100 points during the past 15 months. I reply that the fall took place almost suddenly, within the span of a month or two at most. That the high premium (340% or thereby) from which it fell was an abnormal one, caused by apprehension entertained in the market as to what our rulers might or might not do. The premium on gold is caused by the volume of our legal inconvertible currency being greater than the necessities of the country require, and to rob you of a metaphor, it has no more connection with the exports and imports than the Gulf Stream. I do venture to assert that if the $36,000,000 had been on the other side the premium would have been still lower, because the customs revenue would have been greater and the government would have had more money to spend in burning shinplasters.

If practical good is to result from this discussion, you must convince 'E.', the President, the ministers, and all officialdom that if they restrict imports they will affect the exports and kill the goose from which they expect the golden eggs. By a timely recognition of this fact we may be saved from the prohibitory tariffs with which we are threatened.

Yours

R. B. U.

Mr. Editor,

Ahmed is a merchant in Africa, Banyan is a merchant in Bombay. Ahmed sent a cargo of African produce to Bombay for sale, consigning it to the care of his friend Banyan. This cargo cost him free on board $100,000. Banyan paid $10,000 freight on the cargo and entered it at the Custom House, Bombay, as worth 110,000. He then paid $10,000 in duties, $10,000 for various charges incident to landing, storage and sale, and sold the consignment for $150,000. After this he sent account sales to Ahmed, charging him $10,000 for his commission, and crediting him in account current with $110,000, the net proceeds.

At the same time that Ahmed made his shipment from Africa, Banyan shipped a cargo of Indian produce from Bombay to Africa, which he consigned to his friend Ahmed for sale on commission. This cargo cost him free on board $100,000. Ahmed paid $10,000 freight on this cargo and entered it at the Custom House as worth $110,000. He then paid $10,000 in duties, $10,000 for charges, and then sold the consignment for 150,000. After this he sent account sales to Banyan, charging him $10,000 commission, and crediting him in account current with $110,000, the net proceeds.

Thus Ahmed and Banyan have each spent $130,000, but each has $150,000 in hand, their credits against each other balance, thus each has made $10,000 profit on his shipment, and $10,000 in commissions—total $20,000 profit to each one. Each has also spent $30,000 in freight, duties and charges which have gone into the pockets of the people around him, enriching them.

Statistics of commerce will show that $100,000 has been exported from Africa, and $110,000 has been imported. Also that $100,000 have been exported from Bombay and 110,000 has been imported. Thus according to believers in the Balance of Trade Theory, each country has lost $10,000. For my part I think everyone has made a profit, but I am only

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

London, May 13th.

The Press Association states:—Ulster Unionist members repudiate the report that preliminary measures are being secretly taken for the organization and equipment of an army of defence, in the event of Home Rule being forced upon them. There is no truth in the story that arms and ammunition are being privately purchased and stored away in Ulster, or that recruits are being encouraged to drill, with a view of eventualities. The Ulster unionists state that they have not less than three lines of resistance, of which force of arms is the last and least probable. Their first is determined opposition at all stages and in both Houses of Parliament to the passing of any Home Rule Bill. The second is refusal to elect members to an Irish Parliament or to pay any taxes it may impose on them. Their third resort is active resistance if any attempt is made by an Irish Parliament to enforce its decrees upon them; but they do not at present believe that they will be driven to that extremity. At the same time, this does not involve any disposition to resist the interposition of British troops in the event of such a state of affairs arising in Ireland as to lead the Imperial Government to send over soldiers for the restoration of order.

All the papers have referred to an incident that occurred the night before last in one of the best-known clubs in Paris. One of the persons concerned was Count Takevo, more generally known as ex-King Milan of Servia. The ex-sovereign was holding the bank at baccarat, just before dinner, when one of the players, seated at the table, made a most insulting remark. He at once rose and declared that he should call upon the president of the club to decide whether the remark which had just been addressed to him was not a sufficient ground for the immediate expulsion of the man who had uttered it. If it were not considered to be so he would resign. The offender hereupon rose and made an apology, but King Milan refused to accept it, and left the club.

The same evening the Marquis de Breteil and the Marquis de Lau waited upon Baron de V., who at once made an ample apology in writing. This prompt reparation disarmed the wrath of King Milan, and yesterday evening he begged General le Comte, president to the club, to consider the sort of ultimatum which he had delivered at the time of the occurrence as withdrawn, and to look upon the incident as closed.

It is said that the Pope has written to the Archbishop of Paris, commanding the dissolution of the Christian Union. The result has been a more explicit adhesion to the instructions of the Pope, and the supplementary letter, which was brought by a special messenger from the Vatican, will doubtless urge him to follow up his disavowal of the "Union Chrétienne" by some open act of submission, or by resigning the Archbishopric of Paris. There is, of course, no real dissension between Cardinal Richard and the Vatican, but it is felt that he has been influenced and compromised by Mgr. d'Hulst, whose intimacy with the Orleans family and election for Brest ought to have caused his immediate withdrawal from a pulpit so national as that of Notre Dame. So far, however, from this being the case, the distinguished prelate has already published the subject of his next year's Lenten course. In Rome this is looked upon with disfavour, and whatever course may be taken with Cardinal Richard, it is probable that the Royalist Deputy will be made to feel while he speaks for his constituents at the Chamber, he has no right of utterance or guidance in matters affecting the French clergy and laity.

Mr. Parnell's widow has been nonsuited in her appeal to have the Wood estate distributed afresh. The Master of the Rolls said that her share (£60,000) was quite enough for her.

Paris, May 12.

The Pope has sent a message to the Catholic Congress, now sitting here, recommending the members to comply with the admonitions of his last Encyclical, which enjoined obedience to the constituted Government.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

The Post Master General favors us with an interesting telegram in regard to the condition of the Province of San Luis during the last half of May. We extract as follows:—

Department of the capital.—No wheat has been sown yet. The yield of maize has been satisfactory, but the plantations are very small. Frosts are frequent and it has not rained for some time. Cattle are nevertheless in good condition, although a good many have died owing to the scarcity of grass. The locusts destroyed many leagues of pasture.

Department of Pedernera.—There are a few wheat plantations. The yield of maize has been very satisfactory. Frosts are frequent. It has not rained for some time. There are extensive alfalfa plantations, and grass is abundant.

Department of Chacabuco.—The yield of maize has been small. Frosts are frequent; it has not rained, cattle in good condition.

Department of San Martin.—The settlers have not yet begun to sow wheat. The maize harvest has been excellent. Frosts are frequent. It has not rained. Cattle are in good condition. There is abundance of pasturage.

Department of Junin.—The settlers have not yet begun to sow wheat. The yield of maize has not been good. There has been an abundant crop of beans. It has not rained. Frosts are frequent. Cattle and camps are in good condition.

Department of Ayacucho.—It has not rained here. The yield of maize has been very good. Frosts are frequent. Cattle are in excellent condition.

Department of Belgrano.—There are no wheat plantations. The yield of maize has been satisfactory. Frosts are frequent. It has not rained. Locusts still linger in this department. Cattle are in good condition in some districts and in very bad condition in others. Grass is very scarce.

From the foregoing it will be seen that, from an agricultural point of view, San Luis is very backward.

BUSINESS IN ARGENTINA.

Mr. Mallet, the British Vice-Consul at Rosario, has compiled an interesting account of the trade of Argentina during last year, from which we extract the following:—In view of the large crop, a speculative business has been carried on in chartering vessels in ballast from Brazil, Montevideo, and Buenos Ayres, the result of which has placed several shipmasters in unfortunate positions. During the months of November and December vessels were chartered on speculation to load grain for Europe at from £1 8s to £1 11s. The speculation proved a failure, and some of the vessels have since been re-chartered at greatly reduced rates, and many remain still unchartered. As an instance, one barque of 1,500 tons burden was chartered at Buenos Ayres to load grain here for Europe at £1 10s per ton. The charter party bore the signature of a firm as charterers and shippers. The captain, considering his vessel properly chartered, engaged a tug-boat, and brought her to Rosario. Lay days for loading commenced, but no representative of the charterers could be found. The very charterer's name was unknown to River Plate exporting houses, and no cargo was forthcoming. After waiting nearly 20 days, the captain went personally to Buenos Ayres. What satisfaction he got is not known, but on his return to Rosario he chartered his vessel at 12s less per ton, this time to a well-known mercantile firm at Rosario. The 12s difference in freight represents in this case a loss of £900 to the owners, without counting the time lost and expenses incurred. According to Arts. 105 and 107 of the Argentine Commercial Code a broker is not allowed to speculate in charters, so if a master after accepting a broker as charterer has to sue him for non-fulfilment of charter party he will get no satisfaction, as the charter is illegal.

Owing to heavy rains and want of machinery the crops are late in arriving this season, so it is expected there will be employment for shipping at good rates up to the end of October. Trade with Brazil in shipments of lucerne is large and increasing.

Taking into consideration the crisis, and the fact that a reduction has been made in some taxes, the revenue of the Municipality of Rosario in 1891 cannot be considered unsatisfactory. Great improvement is noticeable in all matters connected with the municipality, due to the competent men now in office. A reduction has been made in the expenses by the dismissal of a number of useless and incompetent employés. Owing, however, to former reckless expenditure and mismanagement, the financial situation is very unsatisfactory. From statistics kindly furnished by Mr. Gabriel Carrasco, late municipal "intendente" of Rosario, it would seem that the total foreign gold nebt of the Rosario municipality amounts to close on $8,000,000 gold, which, taken to be paying the low average interest of 4 per cent., gives $320,000 gold, which reduced to paper currency at, say, 300 per cent., equals $960,000 paper, against a revenue this year of $835,111 paper, so that, unless the currency in which the municipal income is collected increases to a par value, it is impossible the obligations can be met. It may, however, be stated that part of the above loan has been invested in paving the streets and other public works, which, although non-rent-producing at present, will when times improve, increase the revenue to a considerable extent. The municipality, through the failure of the Provincial Bank of Santa-Fé, has close on $4,000,000 currency [balance of one of its loans] locked up in that establishment. The Provincial Government's finances being also in a bad way, the municipality has applied to the National Government for assistance.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

The Board of Public Works have issued a report on a question pending between the Santa Fé and Cordoba Great Southern and the Villa Maria-Rufino Railway. The Report in question states: (1) That the Villa Maria-Rufino Company have the right of priority in regard to the concessions granted by Congress; (2) that the Santa Fé and Cordoba Great Southern has the right of priority so far as the approval of the plans is concerned, which, according to the Board of Public Works, is the better right to the occupation of the land traversed and therefore to the crossings; (3) that the Santa Fé and Cordoba Great Southern has the right of possession, since it constructed earthworks and laid rails at the point of the crossing; (4) that this report be laid before the Attorney-General.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

All the men in town look 20 years younger (the ladies, long life to them, could n't look younger than they do) with the weight of the Presidential election off their minds. Even those who were not in the least thirsty, and had no sign of influenza about them, quaffed bumpers of Dry Champagne on Sunday evening to the jolly good health of the President elect. The only thing now required to set things booming in and out of Congress is the raising of the state of siege, which has no longer any "raison d'etre."

The Deputies approved yesterday the election of the member for Catamarca, in the teeth of the report of the "Comision de Poderes," which declared it invalid.

We draw attention to advertizement of special consignment of Souchong Tea received by D. M Rennie, 580 Lavalle. We have sampled this tea and consider it one of the finest ever brought to this country. Lovers of a good cup of tea should secure a package at once. Original China packages of about 60 lbs.

The Nord America sails to-day for Europe also Wordsworth. Mails close at noon.

We call the attention of the friends of the late Dean Dillon to the notice of a Mass to be offered for him in the Merced Church, on Friday next, at 10 o'clock a.m.

Our unfortunate B. O. neighbours seem to be going heels over head down the financial stairs. The telegrams from Montevideo last night stated that a Moratorium decree for Government debts is expected to be issued to-day or to-morrow. Poor B. O.

The following are the chief prizes in the Montevideo Lottery drawn yesterday:—

No. 4391, $20,000; 2058, $1,000; 10995, 8334, $500 each; 2217, 8285, 3240, $200 each; 3756, 5250, 4376, 6971, 10709, 5419, 8924, $100 each.

The thermometer was one degree under zero on Saturday and Sunday nights, and the whole country is now as white as a sheet with frost every morning. Frost is good for influenza; it kills the microbe.

We are requested to draw our readers' attention to the fact that the annual Rugby Football match with Rosario comes off on Thursday next the 16th. inst. As the game is expected to be a very interesting one, we trust there will be a large attendance of spectators. It will be played at Lomas on the Lomas Club ground. Kick off at 2 30 p.m. Several of the Lomas ladies have kindly promised to look after arrangements for afternoon tea.

The Modern Gauls had their Derby to themselves on Sunday at Longchamps, as no foreign horse ran. Rueil won the Grand Prix, £8,000.

The proposed new bank which our Uruguayan friends have been leaning on so long has burst up. On Sunday President Herrera summoned all the wise men of the Senate (which, of course, included the whole of that august body) to a palaver on the subject; and, when the cigarette of peace had been smoked there was a jolly row, and the Senators patriotically and unanimously resolved not to submit to the President of the new bank being named by the shareholders, as it would be "an outrage on the dignity of the country"!! The capitalists in flinty-hearted London maintain that any President but one of their own selection would be an outrage on the dignity of their pockets, and so the matter stands. Even in business, "dignity" plays old Harry with everything in these dignified countries.

In reply to Dicky Sam's Lament that he cannot find for love, money, or manslaughter a copy of the Southern Cross with the translation of the Argentine National Hymn, we should say that the editor of that paper will willingly allow him to copy it from his files, as the edition containing it is exhausted.

We'd sooner read and correct fifty columns about such brisk and breezy subjects as Smoking Concerts and Balance of Trade than a quarter of a column on Geology. In Mr Richards's interesting report on Chubut in our issue of Sunday there were two errors which we wish to correct. In the paragraph referring to the upper layers of the Teca basin "This Sandstone, as a rule, has been laid in a thick bed of China clay;" should have been "on a thick bed of China clay." In the 2nd. paragraph on the Quartz veins "These East and West lodes have a southerly direction", the original says "a southerly dip."

If anybody wants a good afternoon's amusement for the coming holiday, let him run out to Lomas on Thursday next, and go to the opening sports of the Lomas Harriers, who are starting once again on their wild career. The meet will be held at the usual place on the Avenida, at 2 p.m.: and all the rank, beauty and fashion of the neighbourhood will turn out for the occasion! Tally-ho!

Here's something about ladies and gentlemen:—"The term "gentleman" does not mean a gentle man. In England it was given to men of good family about the middle of the fifteenth century. During the occupation of Gaul by the Romans the Gauls, observing that the best military positions were held by Gentiles (pronounced in three syllables), translated the name into gentilshommes, and from France thus comes our word "gentleman" The word "lady" is derived from old Saxon times, when the masters and mistresses of manors served out bread to the poor and were therefore called "lafords" (lords) and "lefdays" (ladies.)"

Crutch's last number seems smaller in size, but is as mirth-provoking as ever. The man who draws the girls ought to get a medal from the fair sex, he makes them all so bewitching.

"Avoid whiskey and water, my son, said the father, "It is a dilution and a snare."

The Argentine News of Rosario is so full of murders and stabbing cases committed during the week there and in all parts of the province of Santa Fe that we laid down our exchange with a groan of horror at the appalling increase of crime in that part of the republic. Our colleague pertinently remarks: "When Dr. Pellegrini travelled through this province he was astonished at the abundance of wheat he saw; strange to say he does not seem to have observed the super abundance of crime existing in the same province."

The cold temperature was somewhat modified yesterday morning in the small hours, in Calle Tacuari, by a rattling blaze in Mr. Darribas's livery stable. The fire started in a bakery alongside, and in three hours made an end of the place. Most of the carriages belonging to private parties were saved, but all the hay and several wagons were reduced to ashes: also two fine horses; the rest escaped and tore away through the streets in a state of wild terror. Total loss $30,000. Insured for $20,000 in two offices.

"Can I negotiate a loan?" said a seedy-looking chap as he entered a bank. "Yes, you can negotiate alone. At least, you can't negotiate with us."

Mr. Shaw has returned to his old post as manager of the Rosario Gas Works, much to the benefit of the town and the company. His previous record at the Gas works was not only successful for the company, but he won the good opinion of the town for his uprightness and courtesy.

We rejoice to hear from Rosario that our locked-up confreres of the Municipio have been released by order of the President of the republic and are again at liberty to print and publish their bright and breezy sheet.

The closing of all the primary schools in most of the provinces seems to be within measurable distance. There is no money, very little music, and only the usual supply of air for the teachers to live on, so a school crisis is threatening, unless the Caja de Conversion can be coaxed to produce the much required shinplasters.

We are indebted to a North American subscriber for the following interesting items:—

"One of the delegates from Colorado to the Minneapolis Convention is a full blooded Indian, a descendant of the great Fecumseh whom Pres. Harrison's grandfather defeated in battle. One of the North Carolina delegates is a son of Chang, one of the Siamese twins of world-wide fame.

"William Astor, the New York millionaire that recently died, left a fortune of $50,000,000.

"Sidney Dillon, who died last Thursday in New York, was the president of the Union Pacific Railway. Mr. Dillon was a warm friend of Jay Gould and died worth about $4,000,000."

The concert announced for Friday next, at the American Church, has been postponed."

In Montevideo the "gobemouches" killed Colonel Latorre, with influenza. The ex-Uruguayan Dictator is not dead nor even half dead, but has recovered from a slight attack of the prevailing epidemic.

Nearly all the officers and crew of the Admiral Brown have gone through the influenza mill, but all have recovered in spite of there being little or no medicine on board the ship. This is a caution to doctors and apothecaries. "Throw physic to the dogs" say we.

The National College is now working so smoothly that no one would suppose it was the scene of the youthful turbulence of a few weeks ago. Ministers Balestra and Inspector-General Fitzsimons can put feathers in their caps for this improved state of things.

The cry is still they go. The Nord America, which leaves to-day and will run to Europe in 18 days, leaves a brimfull ship. Every berth on board has an occupant, and there are 600 steerage passengers.

Everybody, almost, asked for presents when George II reigned in England; and alehouses were marked by checkers on the doorpost. To this day the checker is a common tavern sign. Bakers had a lattice at their doors. All tradesmen—not servants only, but master tradesmen—asked for Christmas boxes. Nowadays all tradesmen who have a proper sense of their own "dignidad de hombre" give Christmas Boxes to their customers.

There are lots of Bulgarians in this country now, and we had no idea they were such fine fellows (they gave up atrocities long ago, through fear of England's Grand Old Man) till we got a glimpse the other day of what Mr. Jirecek, a Hungarian, has recently written about them in an interesting book. The two D's—Doctors and Dominies—are cocks of the walk in Bulgaria, pretty much as doctors of law are here. Hear Mr. J.:—"There are neither poor nor rich in Bulg

PRACTICAL RESULTS OF USING A RELIABLE DIP WHICH CURES THE SCAB AND IMPROVES THE WOOL.

The following testimonial is received from Messrs Ronald & Rogers, the celebrated Brokers for River Plate wools at Liverpool who sold a number of lots of wool from some of the largest Estancieros in the River Plate.

COPY TESTIMONIAL

Telegraphic Address—Ronald, Liverpool, Exchange Chambers, Bixteth Street, Liverpool, 19th Feb. 1892.

Dear Sirs—
Amongst the River Plate Wools which we have sold here this season, our attention has been called to several clips which had been treated with Hayward's "Paste" Sheep Dip, and we have pleasure in testifying to the freedom from scab, and handsome lustrous appearance of these wools, which we consider materially assisted in their obtaining such very good prices.

ON 'CHANGE.

Monday, June 13th.

The market breathed more freely today. The great ordeal of the Presidential election was over, and all the absurd fears that hovered round the results of same up to the very last moment were removed. The triumph of the candidates of the Conciliation parties is in reality the triumph of the market, and the sense of relief on 'Change this morning made the very gold bulls look cheerful. Cedulas rose, Patriotic Bonds rose, Catalinas rose, everything rose: gold fell. All acknowledge that the election marks a new starting-point, and all are willing to believe that we are at last entering a stage of reform and returning prosperity: the crisis cloud is still black, but no longer threatening, as it is now receding slowly and steadily, whilst the silver-lining is growing and spreading overhead. The whole market is now plunged in brilliant expectations, and many people see in the present evolution the same symptoms that preceded the extraordinary reaction in 1880, when General Roca assumed the reins of Government.

Fourteen thousand ounces changed hands at the first ring: the price opened at $51.80, fell to 51.50, and closed at 51.60, say 217 % premium. A fair amount of sovereigns was sold: the price opened at $16, rose to $16.12, and closed at 16.05, say 218⅛ o/o premium. The market closed with a heavy feeling, and speculation in time bargains up to end of year shews a falling tendency.

Patriotic Bonds were very firm and active, in fact all stocks began to revive to-day, but in none was the impulse so great as in the Patriotic stock: about half a million was sold: the price for the end of the month opened at 69, fell to 68.60, and closed a 68.80; price for cash opened at 68, rose to 68.80, and closed at 68.40. Internal Bonds rose to 92.70. It is understood that the demand for Patriotic stock is increasing, as many people, who held aloof owing to fears as to the result of the Presidential election, are now coming forward to subscribe to the capital of the Banco de la Nacion. Some wonder is expressed that certain banks that hold large amounts of Patriotic Bonds have not subscribed to the capital of the new bank, as the operation is a remunerative one on the face of it.

Spanish Bank Shares were firm at 108. National Cedulas A gold rose to 32 gold. La Plata Cedulas were very firm, closing at 31.20 for F; 31.30 G, 32 K L and P, 31½ N, and 32½ for O a heavy rise all round. Catalinas rose to 8.60.

The exchange market was quite nominal at last week's closing rates. Discounts continued easy.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day:—

steamer. We hope the Postmaster-General Carles will put an end to this pessimist telegraphic interruption.

The gold market stiffened at the second ring; twelve thousand ounces were sold for to-morrow; the price opened at 51 70$ and closed at 52, say 219½% premium. Sovereigns closed at 16.15$, say 220½% premium. Patriotic Bonds rose, owing to the stirring demand; the price for the end of the month closed at 69.10, that for to-morrow at 68.80. There was quite a sudden flare-up in La Plata Cedulas which went up rocket-like; A closed at 33¼; F at 32½; K at 32.70; G at 32.50; L at 32.70 for to-morrow and 32.90 for the end of the month; M closed at 32.80, N at 32.70; O rose to 33, closing at 32.60; P closed at 32.90.

The Board of the Banco de Credito Real will burn with all the formalities of law 16,910 shares of the Bank on Monday: this will make up 65,000 shares withdrawn from circulation and burnt. The capital will then remain at 3½ millions; thus 6½ millions have been wiped out.

Messrs. Gibson and Leloir, concessionaires of a port scheme at San Clemente, Cabo San Antonio, have applied for six months' grace to present the final plans of the work. This great scheme is in connection with a railway concession granted by the Buenos Ayres Government. As this concession has not yet been settlnd, the delay of six months is requested.

The Minister of Finance has fixed the rate of gold at 310 for payment of Customs dues.

The milling-engineer, Mr. F. Ulcakar, called the attention of the public to the fact that flour-dressing arrived at its highest degree of perfection by the use of the hand-sieve, in his History of Millery published in 1887. The intelligent Austrian miller, Ignatius Paur, indicated the same many years ago in his work on High Millery, but up to the present time nothing practical has been brought forward to use this system on a large scale. The most valuable invention of Mr. Ulcakar's countryman, the Hungarian milling-engineer, Mr. Haggenmacher, has solved the problem in a most satisfactory manner by his "Plansichter," which is really a large hand-sieve moved by mechanical means, of which it perfectly imitates the horizontal shaking with a surprising result in velocity and the beauty of the milled material. The cost of working expenses is equally reduced by the application of the 'Plansichter.' Only a few days ago the first 'Plansichter,' constructed by Mr. Ulcakar, was started in Buenos Ayres. The Nacion of 31st May reported in a most flattering way on the work done by this most ingenious dresser. As agriculture is daily progressing in this vast Republic, Argentine millers will, no doubt, be highly interested in adopting the 'Plansichter,' which will enable them to defy the competition of millers in other South American countries, considering that this valuable apparatus is not in use anywhere else. As a detailed report on the 'Plansichter' would occupy too much space, without offering special interest to the majority of our readers, we only state the room required for its installation is exceedingly limited, and that it only employs 4 H.P. in dressing from 600 to 1200 kilos of flour per hour.

The Nuevo Rawson sailed yesterday for Chubut, with a full cargo of merchandise for the flourishing firm of R. A. Davies & Co. of Tre Rawson. This firm has four warehouses in the Welsh Colony, doing a good trade, under the personal management of Mr. Davies, who established the business some years ago. She also had on board twenty-nine emigrants from Wales and six other passengers.

CLEARANCE SALE AT THE
BANKRUPT STOCK EMPORIUM
78--SUIPACHA--78
We are much pleased to announce to the public that our great Clearance Sale up to date has been a tremendous success. We have sold a much larger quantity of furniture and house furnishings than we anticipated in so short a space of time, yet we find it very difficult to make room for the shipment that is coming to us from La Plata, owing to other fresh arrivals daily, consequently we will continue our Clearance Sale for a few days longer in order if possible to get more space. It is useless to enumerate all of our articles. We simply invite the public to kindly call and investigate for themselves, as we claim that we are in a position to save you very much money in furnishing your houses, your money saved is as good as money earned; it is folly to pay exorbitant prices for ordinary new furniture when you can have it elegant and substantial from us at a much less figure. Everything is newly polished before leaving the premises.

TEA
INJURIOUS TEA DRINKING
In the "Daily Post" of September 2 appears a leading article—evidently from an analytical expert—showing that after 3 minutes "draw," Indian Tea yields 17·73 of tannin, while from China comes only 7·93. What this means few know, but those troubled with indigestion may realise in part by use of True China Tea for one week.
GUARANTEED PURE
Beware of gross, imitations of this well-known mark. Sold in tins of 1, 3, 6 and 12 lbs
